

Sana – The Girl Who Became My Everything

Some people come into your life quietly , without a warning , and end up becoming the most special and important part of your heart. For me It's my Rudy Sana . She come into my life unexpectedly and without even realizing it , she made a place in my heart that I truly believe only belongs to her.

Yes Sana – the one I Love the most .
The one I cannot forget.
The one I dream of spending my life with.
The one who makes me smile just by his presence.
The one i want to love more than anyone else could

SANA a beautiful combination of both cuteness and rudeness a girl with pure heart full of kindness full of stupidity full of rudeness but more importantly the one with full of honesty and realness . Yes we're different . Yes we think differently sometimes we argue , sometimes we don't agree with someone thoughts and we often have a long argue but this long argue I love the most because for me its one hour spending the time with the person i love the most , teasing her again and again seeing her annoyed face it something my heart understand .

There are still things I haven't told her , and maybe I never will bcoz, yes I want to her but she doesn't feel the same I tried to show , I've tried to explain how much she mean to me, but she rejected me again and again . Still , I never stop loving her

If Loving her From a distance is an art then I want to be an artist For her.

If someone say how perfect she is i will probably write a book for her . bcoz thats how special she is for me
Well sometimes she forget That's she is someone sunshine
But i won't forget
Not now, not ever

She is Sana the girl i Admire the most , the girl i will always hold in my heart .. i don't care is she is perfect or imperfect , but she is absolutely perfect for me .
Bcoz She is Sana the One I love the most .
